Partners Training for Transformation is 40 years in existence. For 40 years we have elicited stories, explored stories, created stories and told stories about communities, groups and organisations, and ourselves. We have all experienced the power of stories. We have done this through voice, drama, movement, images, music.

Since 2019 we worked on a project called DEPAL (Digital Education and Participatory Adult Learning) with partner organisations from Spain, Italy, UK and Greece. A key element of this was learning how to create and tell stories digitally. This free event is to share some of what we discovered through this project, and to give you a taste of a longer course planned to begin later in the year, or early next year.

We invite you to join us in Sligo in December 2022 to explore the nature and power of story, to get a taste of digital storytelling, and to discover resources for adult educators and others working with adults.
